

Ben Greene
Bluegrass Sideman

COMMENTS

Ben Greene once again has demonstrated that he is a "world class" banjo player. While playing this great traditional material ably assisted by some of the best musicians in bluegrass music, Ben has placed his unique arrangements on all of the songs on this project. In addition, his three original compositions demonstrate Ben's versatility with the banjo. A true master of his instrument can take a normal break & change it into something very special. The addition of six of bluegrass music's most favorite voices just makes this project even better. For almost 31 min., this is the "best deal in town". Ben hits this project out of the park!! I played the entire project & I couldn't keep up with the request lines!!! I hope I don't wear this project out...

Thank you for sharing this fine project with us.
